

KUALA LUMPUR, MALAYSIA'S CITY CENTER BEST FOR EXPATS

Moving abroad is often an overwhelming experience for any expatriate and the raising concerns often circulate around educational opportunities, healthcare facilities and adaptation of local lifestyle. In a thriving nation of Kuala Lumpur skyscrapers, it would be refreshing, exciting and enriching for a single expat or a family to relocate to Kuala Lumpur due to these key criterias and many more.

Healthcare Facilities

It is no wonder that the one of Malaysia's gem are our healthcare facilities. Malaysia victoriously took the top spot in the Healthcare category under the Annual Retirement Index that was published in 2019. With a solid score of 95 out of 100, Malaysia has been ranked number one with its world-class healthcare services and sophisticated infrastructure. Offering universal healthcare for all citizens and legal residents, the system is heavily financed by government subsidiaries despite the system excluding on a national insurance program. Subsidised public healthcare system covers the cost of care through the public system alongside well-established private hospitals that work well in conjunction with one another.

Education Opportunities

Over the years, the modern city of Kuala Lumpur has welcome over 100 astounding international schools scattered around Kuala Lumpur alone. With the many different curriculums offered namely British, Montessori, CBSE and American that is globally recognised, expatriates now have access to a pool of options to choose from considering the education syllabus and superior infrastructure that compliments the city and its multi-cultural nature. Malaysia aims to provide its residents and expats with fine institutions catering high-quality education, especially within its capital. These top-notch facilities and educators ensure students not only receive exemplary education, but a completely different learning experience exploring diverse cultures, languages and interacting with people from all over the world.

Local Lifestyle

Kuala Lumpur or KL is the heart and capital city of Malaysia that boasts towering skyscrapers, modern architectures, and a vast array of natural attractions to be explored. This cosmopolitan metropolis with a unique touch of diverse cultural values mirror the special blend of Southeast Asia meets international elements that ensure newcomers generally feel warm, welcome and at home. It is an additional advantage that residents and expats in the urban areas are highly proficient and widely speak English as both spoken and written language.
